

CAMPUS SECURITY TRANSFORMATION THROUGH COLLABORATION

RCS takes great pride in our ability to leverage internal relationships for the greater need of the organization. Interdepartmental areas should recognize the value of working collaboratively, but on occasion, lack the time (insufficient staff, overwhelming duties and responsibilities, time management, etc.) needed to create opportunities and cultivate relations. We understand the time commitment needed, and the level of intentionality required to broker and maintain functional productive internal relationships can be demanding; however, it's absolutely imperative. By leading the way with this work, RCS removes the barriers to relationship building, leaving stakeholders free to focus their efforts on executive strategies to achieve shared objectives and goals.

SECURITY DEVELOPMENT APPROACH

RCS leverages an interdisciplinary team of subject matter experts to build and cultivate comprehensive security efforts. The CEO leverages a successful 32-year law enforcement career encompassing 16 years as Chief of Police and Emergency Management Director, as well as utilizing the knowledge base of external professional partners to assemble proactive security strategies. RCS supports our clients and partners by developing a tailored solution to their campuses to match their needs. This approach ensures resources are not wasted on overhead, but rather, translate into specific deliverables and outcomes.

SCHOOL DEVELOPMENT SUPPORT

School Districts, Colleges and Universities who pursue and seek the ambitious goals of enhancing campus safety and security initiatives, do so, in an effort to improve the quality of life for their campuses. Campus leaders who cultivate strategies and establish partnerships across divisions, will establish a process for predicting overall success, which serves as a means of creating a network of internal partners to ensure success as well as accountability. The aforementioned, increases public confidence and yields community support in the event of an adverse incident. RCS is uniquely positioned to support campus leadership (and the various divisions therein) with the development of a holistic safety plan.

TRANSFORMING CAMPUS SAFETY

In America's current climate, the Nation's facing acts of violence that are occurring suddenly and unexpectedly, encompassing violence and carnage with devastating outcomes. Even more shocking, is the fact that the United States has experienced exponential increases in school shootings resulting in and creating fear and anxiety regarding sending our students to places we previously considered as safe spaces for learning. With this being our reality, we MUST place proactive strategic security measures and strategies in place to identify, mitigate and respond to potential threats that has the potential to tragically impact the campus environment. This is where Reimagined Campus Security (RCS) can assist by providing insightful and creative strategies to assist you with avoiding tragic outcomes if you encounter situations that may adversely impact your campus. Most importantly, we want to provide you with tools to assist you with preventing the encounter from occurring!
